

7 Brands who call The Gallery home

If you've never taken a look at Clerkenwell's The Gallery, you really should. WIth a plethora of leading brands and products on permanent display, The Gallery is the very epitome of collaborative working and thinking. So make it a CDW must-see.

1

Mohawk by Marlings Urban inspiration and global appeal.

Inspired by the work of leading street artists' unique art, Street Thread employs bold geometric and gradient shapes to create a distinctly urban, modern aesthetic.

Mohawk, the largest floor manufacturing group in the world, works in partnership with Marlings at The Gallery. Street Thread will soon featured at the Great Sutton Street address.

3

aircharge Successful take off

The Gallery recently hosted the launch of Ergo's newest design. The aircharge wireless surface charger, incorporating the latest technologies, can be integrated into any environment, whether that be the home, the workplace or a social venue. Responding to rapidly changing trends in working practices, technology and legislation, aircharge provides a clever solution with simple installation and smart design. With a state-of-the-art facility in Oxfordshire and a commitment to relentless innovation through research, development and design, aircharge allows the benefits of emerging technologies to be experienced sooner rather later – bridging the gap so that you can enjoy the freedom wireless charging now and long into the future.

2

Silverline Backing Britain's bounce back

With manufacturing offering a positive outlook to the UK's recovering economic position, Silverline is proud to be British. Unlike many manufacturers, Silverline's roots have remained within the UK throughout the peaks and troughs. The Freedom range, a complete spectrum of storage, is a true reflection of British design and quality. Freedom is a fully re-configurable system with a seamless back.

4

Tangent Welcoming Mesh to the mix

The Gallery's desking partner Tangent is to preview its stunning new Mesh modular reception system during Clerkenwell Design Week. Designed by Neil Wilson the products are the result of a partnership using Porcelanosa's new architectural material KRION, which enabled Neil to design a visually engaging series of products in a composite material that has significant benefits in the built environment. The design is a visually striking array of angled planes, which are arranged in modules to suit the environment and then finished on site to give a seamless monolithic effect. KRION is a material that is warm to the touch and similar to natural stone. It is made of two-thirds natural minerals and a low percentage of high-resistance resins. This composition gives KRION a number of exclusive features: it does not have any pores, it is anti-bacterial without any type of additive, it is hard-wearing, highly resistant and easy to repair, only requires minimum maintenance and is easy to clean.

environment and then finished on site to give a seamless monolithic effect. KRION is a material that is warm to the touch and similar to natural stone. It is made of two-thirds natural minerals and a low percentage of high-resistance resins. This composition gives KRION a number of exclusive features: it does not have any pores, it is anti-bacterial without any type of additive, it is hard-wearing, highly resistant and easy to repair, only requires minimum maintenance and is easy to clean.

5

Spaceoasis A lifetime guarantee

Creating inspirational spaces shouldn't be this easy, Spaceoasis tells us. Designing furniture this versatile isn't easy – but creating your own inspirational space is. All Spaceoasis products have been designed to help create engaging and flexible spaces, which work perfectly for you; and with unique curvypress technology, spaceoasis panels are guaranteed for life.

6

sixteen3 Inspired by collaborative spaces

There are exciting times ahead for sixteen3, with a host of additions to the company's existing ranges. Adytum Space is a new, flexible, fully upholstered collaborative space division system. Taking visual cues from the Arny Adytum family, the individual panel and seating components can be combined to create a multitude of layouts, aiding collaborative working, concentration pods or creating breakout spaces, resource points or colourful landscapes to suit any environment. Manufactured in the UK using lightweight materials, the system is available in a wide range of fabric finishes. Examples of Adytum Space will be on show during Clerkenwell Design Week – so head over to The Gallery for a look!

7

Viasit Vivid a loca

Viasit's VividaXpress chair will be quick to impress at this year's Clerkenwell Design Week. With express 7-day delivery from stock, VividaXpress is made in Germany, comes with a 5-year warranty and features class leading affordable ergonomics. The chair offers a synchronised mechanism with 120 degree recline, three position lock and free flow functions, adjustable tension control and 70mm seat slide – all at an incredibly affordable price point. Furthermore, VividaXpress comes in a choice of black or anthracite Gabriel Atlantic seat upholstery.

